

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910809046803321
Titolo	Science at sea : meeting future oceanographic goals with a robust academic research fleet // Committee on Evolution of the National Oceanographic Research Fleet, Ocean Studies Board, Division on Earth and Life Studies, National Research Council
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Washington, D.C., : National Academies Press, c2009
ISBN	0-309-14798-0 1-282-45495-1 9786612454950 0-309-14558-9
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xii, 107 pages) : illustrations (some color)
Disciplina	623.82
Soggetti	Research vessels - United States Oceanographic research ships - United States Oceanographic research ships - United States - Design Oceanography - Research - United States
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 85-89).
Nota di contenuto	""Preface""; ""Acknowledgments""; ""Contents""; ""Summary""; ""1 The U. S. Academic Research Fleet""; ""2 Future Science Needs""; ""3 Technological Advances and Their Impact on the Fleet""; ""4 Oceanographic Research Vessel Design""; ""5 Ship Time Costs and Their Impacts""; ""6 Partnerships""; ""7 Conclusions and Recommendations""; ""References""; ""Appendixes""; ""Appendix A: The History of the U.S. Academic Research Fleet""; ""Appendix B: UNOLS Member Institutions""; ""Appendix C: Acronyms""; ""Appendix D: Committee and Staff Biographies""
Sommario/riassunto	"The U.S. academic research fleet is an essential national resource, and it is likely that scientific demands on the fleet will increase. Oceanographers are embracing a host of remote technologies that can facilitate the collection of data, but will continue to require capable, adaptable research vessels for access to the sea for the foreseeable future. Maintaining U.S. leadership in ocean research will require investing in larger and more capable general purpose Global and Regional class ships; involving the scientific community in all phases of ship design and acquisition; and improving coordination between agencies that operate research fleets."--Publisher's description.
