

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910809310403321
Autore	Neely Mark E., Jr.
Titolo	The union divided : party conflict in the Civil War North // Mark E. Neely, Jr
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cambridge, Mass., : Harvard University Press, c2002
ISBN	0-674-04135-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (272 p.)
Disciplina	320.973/09/034
Soggetti	Political parties - United States - History - 19th century United States Politics and government 1861-1865
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Frontmatter -- CONTENTS -- Preface -- Introduction -- 1 "No party now but all for our country" -- 2 "Blustering treason in every assembly" -- 3 "He must be entrenching" -- 4 "Odious to honourable men" -- 5 "Times of corruption and demoralization" -- 6 "Paroxysms of rage and fear" -- 7 The Civil War and the Two-Party System -- Notes -- Index
Sommario/riassunto	Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Mark E. Neely, Jr. vividly recounts the surprising story of political conflict in the North during the Civil War. Examining party conflict as viewed through the lens of the developing war, the excesses of party patronage, the impact of wartime elections, the highly partisan press, and the role of the loyal opposition, Neely deftly dismantles the argument long established in Civil War scholarship that the survival of the party system in the North contributed to its victory.