Sommario/riassunto	Michele Leggott's new book of poetry follows on from her 2009 collection, Mirabile Dictu , in its exploration of light and of gathering dark. Leggott is a poet of the litting, shining moment and the sections here follow some of her own moments and movements, experiments and experiences ? to Devonport, to Australia, to the north ? as well as reverberating with the stories and histories of others. The book's final two sections take this exploration of character and narrative further as in one we see off a soldier ? shadowed by Leggott ? to the First World War; and in the other ? set in an
