

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910809380503321
Titolo	Advocating social change through international law : exploring the choice between hard and soft international law // edited by Daniel D. Bradlow, University of Pretoria and American University Washington College of Law, and David B. Hunter, American University Washington College of Law
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Leiden ; ; Boston : , : Brill, , 2020
ISBN	90-04-41702-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource
Collana	China in the World; ; volume7
Disciplina	341
Soggetti	International law - Social aspects Soft law
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction : Exploring the Relationship between Hard and Soft International Law and Social Change / Daniel D. Bradlow and David B. Hunter -- The Softening of Hard Law and the Hardening of Soft Law : an Extended -- Synopsis / Upendra Baxi -- Promoting Social Change through Treaties and Customary International Law : the Experience of the Inter-American Human Rights System / Claudio Grossman -- Children's Rights : Social Change through the Application of Hard and Soft International Law / Ann Skelton -- The International Criminal Court and the Use of Hard Law in the Quest for Accountability for Core International Crimes / Angela Mudukuti -- The Hard Choices in Promoting Environmental Access Rights / Natalia Gomez Pena and David Hunter -- Hard Choices for Soft Commitments in the Climate Change Regime / David B. Hunter -- A Turning Point in a Slow Revolution : the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control / Patricia Anne Lambert -- Soft International Law and the Promotion of Financial Regulation and Responsibility / Daniel D. Bradlow -- Levers for and Obstacles to Social Change : Bank Lending, the Law and the Equator Principles / Sheldon Leader and Luis Felipe Yanes -- Non-Judicial Grievance Mechanisms : Hardening the Soft Law of Corporate Accountability? / Nikki Reisch -- Hard and Soft International Law and

Sommario/riassunto

"The range, scope, scale, and speed of cross- border activity has significantly increased over the past half century.* Today in addition to the linkages created by international trade, foreign investment, international diplomacy, and state- to- state relations, the world is connected through deep and dynamic technological, social, cultural, and environmental interactions. The result is a profound shift towards more international connectedness through migration, trade in goods and services, social media, tourism, education exchanges, cybercrime, communicable diseases, invasive species and environmental pollution.¹ Despite the drag caused by persistent and occasionally resurgent nationalism, the intensity and diversity of these interactions is likely to continue growing"--
