

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910810200003321
Autore	Ahmetoglu Gorkan
Titolo	Personality 101 // Gorkan Ahmetoglu, Tomas Chamorro-Premuzic
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : Springer Pub. Company, 2012
ISBN	0-8261-0785-0
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (338 p.)
Collana	Psych 101
Altri autori (Persone)	Chamorro-PremuzicTomas
Disciplina	155.2
Soggetti	Personality Individuality
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Halftitle; Titlepage; Copyright; Dedication; Contents; Preface; Acknowledgments; I: What is personality and where does it come from?; 1: What is personality and why be interested?; 2: Why are some people different from others? Understanding the causes of personality; 3: How is personality assessed?; II: Does personality matter?; 4: Personality and social implications; 5: Personality and personal implications; 6: Personality and career implications; III: Controversies and future directions; 7: Controversies; 8: Directions and future research; References; Index; Backcover
Sommario/riassunto	""Personality psychology concerns what most people think psychology should be about. This book is the best introduction to personality psychology available anywhere. It combines clear, accessible, and engaging writing with a thorough grasp of the key research and methodological issues in the field. Readers at almost any level of sophistication will find the book enjoyable and informative."" . Robert Hogan , Ph.D. President, Hogan Assessment Systems. ""Broad, authoritative, and above all, clear, this lively book is the ideal introduction to the vibrant field of personality. By blending solid cov