

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910812928103321
Autore	McGowan John <1953->
Titolo	Hannah Arendt : an introduction // John McGowan
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Minneapolis, : University of Minnesota Press, c1998
ISBN	0-8166-8875-3
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (210 pages)
Disciplina	320.5/092
Soggetti	Political science
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 185-188) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Acknowledgments; A Note on Usage and References; 1. Origins: Arendt's Life and Coming to Terms with Totalitarianism; 2. Politics as Identity-Disclosing Action; 3. Understanding and Judging the Reality of Evil; 4. Arendt Now; Notes; References; For Further Reading; Index
Sommario/riassunto	Firmly locating Arendt's ideas in the context of our times, John McGowan here offers a clear, concise overview of Arendt's work and its continuing importance. Explaining the theoretical and philosophical convictions that stood behind Arendt's various-and often controversial-interventions in contemporary affairs, McGowan explores the new ways of thinking that Arendt's work opens up regarding current issues such as human rights, identity politics, and participatory democracy. A concluding chapter connects Arendt's thought to contemporary social theory and today's political debates.