Determinants of collapse of the system -- pt. III. Political economy of systemic change: feasibility of the process. First published in 1997, this collection of articles and essays analyses Sommario/riassunto the political economy of reform and change in Eastern Europe during the years of Gorbachev's perestroika and the years immediately following the fall of the Berlin wall and the collapse of the Soviet Union. Written by Polish economist Jan Winiecki, between 1984 and 1996, this work explores the issue of the feasibility of reform and change during the period of decline and collapse of communist economic order and, later, the emergence of the capitalist economic order in the postcommunist Eastern Europe.
