

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910814429303321
Autore	Dyson Omari L
Titolo	Black Panther Party and transformative pedagogy : place-based education in Philadelphia // Omari L. Dyson
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham : , : Lexington Books, , [2014] ©2014
ISBN	0-7391-7755-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (215 p.)
Disciplina	322.420973
Soggetti	African Americans - Civil rights - Pennsylvania - Philadelphia - History - 20th century African Americans - Education - Pennsylvania - Philadelphia African Americans - Social conditions - Washington (D.C.) Black power - Pennsylvania - Philadelphia - History - 20th century Civil rights movements - Pennsylvania - Philadelphia - History - 20th century Education - Pennsylvania - Philadelphia - History - 20th century Philadelphia (Pa.) Politics and government 20th century Philadelphia (Pa.) Race relations History 20th century Philadelphia (Pa.) Social conditions 20th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Preface; 1 Who's Buying Gold?; 2 Time Bakes the Bred; 3 Panthers "Out of Pocket"; 4 Providing Community Relief; 5 Panthers in a State of Siege; 6 A Telling Legacy; 7 The Cost of Truly Educating; 8 A Brief Conversation with Omari L. Dyson; Bibliography; Index; About the Author
Sommario/riassunto	The Black Panther Party and Transformative Pedagogy: Place-Based Education in Philadelphia, by Omari L. Dyson, draws attention to the social dynamics that spawned a Philadelphia Branch of the Black Panther Party. By attending to this historical moment in the Black Power Movement, the author has nested this organization as a key force in oppressed people's continual struggle to secure economical, political, social, and cultural liberation.

