

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910814591603321
Autore	Johnston Steven
Titolo	Lincoln : the ambiguous icon / / Steven Johnston
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham, Maryland : , : Rowman & Littlefield, , [2018] ©2018
ISBN	1-4422-6131-5
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (241 pages) : illustrations
Collana	Modernity and political thought
Disciplina	973.7092
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Includes index.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Lincoln's ambiguity -- Lincoln's decisionism and the politics of elimination -- Democratic ironies of Lincoln's cinematic exceptionalism -- A "humble offering": the (first) Lincoln memorial -- Lincoln's persistent racial ambivalence: colonization -- What to the Indian is the Gettysburg Address? -- American exceptionalism or American narcissism? The second inaugural -- Lincoln's tragic revenge.
Sommario/riassunto	In this book, political theorist Steve Johnston explores Lincoln's thought and political philosophy, but also his intentional and shrewdly calculated ambiguity - enabling him to be maximally politically effective in the face of unprecedented challenges.