1.	Record Nr.	UNINA9910816423803321
	Autore	Mitter Swasti
	Titolo	Women Encounter Technology : Changing Patterns of Employment in the Third World
	Pubbl/distr/stampa	Hoboken, : Taylor and Francis, 1997
	ISBN	0-203-20861-7 0-203-28852-1 1-280-03164-6 1-134-79951-9 1-134-79950-0 9786610031641
	Edizione	[1st ed.]
	Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (375 p.)
	Collana	UNU/INTECH Studies in New Technology and Development
	Altri autori (Persone)	RowbothamSheila
	Disciplina	331.4091724
	Soggetti	Women
	Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
	Formato	Materiale a stampa
	Livello bibliografico	Monografia
	Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
	Nota di contenuto	Book Cover; Title; Contents; List of figures; List of tables; List of contributors; Acknowledgements; Beyond the politics of difference: an introduction; Information technology and working women's demands; Feminist approaches to technology: women's values or a gender lens?; Conflicting demands of new technology and household work: women's work in Brazilian and Argentinian textiles; Changes in textiles: implications for Asian women; Information technology and women's employment in manufacturing in Eastern Europe: the case of Slovenia Restructuring and retraining: the Canadian garment industry in transitionComputerization and women's employment in India's banking sector; Information technology, gender and employment: a case study of the telecommunications industry in Malaysia; Women in software programming: the experience of Brazil; Something old, something new, something borrowed The electronics industry in Calcutta; Women and information technology in sub-Saharan Africa: a topic for discussion?; Gender perspectives on health and safety in information processing: learning from international experience Using information technology as a mobilizing force: the case of The

Tanzania Media Women's Association (TAMWA)The fading of the collective dream? Reflections on twenty years' research on information technology and women's employment; Afterword; Index

Sommario/riassunto	This collection explores the effects of new technologies on women's employment and on the nature of women's work. The volume is edited by two pre-eminent scholars in the field and contains thirteen articles from leading academics worldwide. The book provides a critique of postmodernism and ecofeminism and demands that new technology is used as a vehicle for gender equality in the developing world.