

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910817414503321
Titolo	Iran's strategic penetration of Latin America // edited by Ilan Berman, Joseph M. Humire ; foreword by Marta Lucia Ramirez
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham, Maryland : , : Lexington Press, , 2014 ©2014
ISBN	1-4985-0598-8 0-7391-8267-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (143 p.)
Disciplina	327.8055
Soggetti	Latin America Foreign relations Iran Iran Foreign relations Latin America Iran Foreign relations 1979-1997
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Includes index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Acknowledgments; Foreword; Preface; 1 What Iran Wants in the Americas; 2 A Marriage of Radical Ideologies; 3 The ALBA; 4 The Southern Cone; 5 Iran and Islamic Extremism in Brazil; 6 Sanctions Busting Schemes in Ecuador; 7 A Venezuelan Platform for Iran's Military Ambitions; 8 A Bolivian Base for Iran's Military Advisors; 9 Rewriting History in Argentina; 10 Anticipating Iran's Next Moves; 11 Crafting a Hemispheric Response; Index; About the Editors and Contributors
Sommario/riassunto	Since 1979, the Islamic Republic has been quietly encroaching on America's southern flank, spreading its influence throughout Latin America. This volume examines this influence as a way of revealing how Iran views Latin America as a latent theater of operation and is building its capacity and capability throughout the region.