

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910817646503321
Autore	Carmichael Calum M
Titolo	Illuminating Leviticus : a study of its laws and institutions in the light of biblical narratives // Calum Carmichael
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Baltimore, Md., : Johns Hopkins University Press, 2006
ISBN	0-8018-8963-4
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (225 p.)
Disciplina	222/.1306
Soggetti	Jewish law Narration in the Bible
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction : the nature of biblical law -- Looking at Leviticus : Leviticus 10-14 -- Genital impurity in the lineages of David and Jonathan : Leviticus 15 -- The Day of Atonement : Leviticus 16 -- The slaughter of animals : Leviticus 17:2-9 -- The blood taboo : Leviticus 17:10-16 -- Mourning and marriage rules for priests : Leviticus 21 -- Life and lies of David : Leviticus 22 and 23 -- Blasphemies : Leviticus 24 -- The Year of Jubilee : Leviticus 25 -- Three laws on the release of slaves : Exodus 21:2-11, Deuteronomy 15:12-18, and Leviticus 25:39-46.
Sommario/riassunto	He contends that biblical laws did not emerge from social imperatives in ancient Israel, but instead from the careful, retrospective study of the nation's history and identity.