

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910819573203321
Autore	Lillie Malcolm
Titolo	Hunters, fishers and foragers in Wales : towards a social narrative of Mesolithic lifeways // Malcolm Lillie
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Oxford, [England] ; ; Havertown, Pennsylvania : , : Oxbow Books, , 2015 ©2015
ISBN	1-78297-975-1
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (362 p.)
Disciplina	936.2/9
Soggetti	Mesolithic period - Wales Wales Antiquities
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	Dedication; Title Page; Copyright; Contents; List of figures and tables; Acknowledgements; Prologue; Introduction; Chapter 1: Setting the scene: the Palaeolithic and the Late-glacial of Britain, adaptation and subsistence in a changing environment; Chapter 2: The view from the hills: sea level rise, post-glacial climate change, landscape change and changing environments; Chapter 3: Tools of the trade: post-glacial tool-kits, their use and their significance; Chapter 4: Coming home to a real fire: landscape utilisation and settlement patterning Chapter 5: Food for thought: subsistence strategies and economic activity Chapter 6: The living and the dead: ritual aspects of Mesolithic life; Chapter 7: The end is in sight: the adoption of new resources and the shift from hunting and gathering towards the integration and exploitation of domesticated animals and plants in subsistence strategies; Epilogue; References; Appendix