

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910821405503321
Autore	Marr David
Titolo	Panic : terror! invasion! disorder! drugs! kids! blacks! boats! // David Marr
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Collingwood, Victoria : , : Black Inc., , 2013 ©2012
ISBN	1-922231-09-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (338 p.)
Disciplina	994
Soggetti	National characteristics, Australian
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Front Cover; Copyright; Praise for David Marr and Panic; PANIC; Contents; 1. Fear itself; 2. Beyond the pale with Pauline; 3. Primal fear; 4. Pictures from Wik; 5. The faithful gather; 6. On the nose; 7. The shape of the argument; 8. Saving the nation; 9. The hero of Cronulla; 10. Pick and stick; 11. A dawn sweep through Sydney; 12. Cowboys and Indians; 13. Scenes from a city under siege; 14. Home free; 15. Trust me; 16. Naked as the day; 17. The wash-up; 18. One hot night forty years ago; 19. Time on the island; 20. Abbott rising; 21. Cat and mouse; 22. My love of drugs; 23. Belling the cat 24. The Dark materialsNotes; About the author
Sommario/riassunto	Panic (noun). A sudden uncontrollable fear or anxiety, often causing wildly unthinking behaviour.Australians see themselves as a relaxed and tolerant bunch. But scratch the surface and you'll uncover an extraordinary level of fear.Cronulla. Henson. Hanson. Wik. Haneef. The boats.Panic shows all of David Marr's characteristic insight, quick wit and brilliant prose as he cuts through the froth and fury that have kept Australia simmering over the last fifteen years.'Turning fear into panic is a great political art: knowing how to stack the bonfire, where to find the kindling, when to slosh on a b