

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910821721603321
Autore	Shusterman Noah
Titolo	Religion and the politics of time : holidays in France from Louis XIV through Napoleon // Noah Shusterman
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Washington, D.C., : Catholic University of America Press, c2010
ISBN	0-8132-1813-6
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xv, 299 pages) : illustrations, maps
Disciplina	944.033
Soggetti	Calendar - Political aspects - France - History Church calendar - France - History Holidays - France - History Time - Political aspects - France - History Church and state - France - History Political culture - France - History France Politics and government 1643-1715 France Politics and government 1715-1774 France Politics and government 1774-1793 France Politics and government 1789-1815
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Religious holidays and temporal authority in old regime France -- Politics of time and the politics of the times, 1642-1695 -- Centralization without the state : religious holidays in the eighteenth century -- Which time for the future? Utility, anti-clericalism, and the calendar -- Seeing like a church : religious time and Republican politics, 1789-VI -- Reluctant missionaries : enforcement of the Republican calendar, VI-VII -- Une loi de l'eglise et de l'etat : Napoleon and the central administration of religious life, 1800-1815.
Sommario/riassunto	A study of the changes in religious holidays in Old Regime and Revolutionary France. It highlights the importance of cultural and religious history in the transformations of French society that took place from the mid-seventeenth through the early nineteenth century and tells a story of the development of a French national calendar of holidays.

---