

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910822986203321
Autore	Goldrick James
Titolo	Before Jutland : the naval war in Northern European waters, August 1914-February 1915 // James Goldrick
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Annapolis, Maryland : , : Naval Institute Press, , 2015 ©2015
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (401 p.)
Disciplina	940.4/54
Soggetti	World War, 1914-1918 - Naval operations World War, 1914-1918 - Campaigns - North Sea
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	The beginning -- The British -- The Germans -- The Russians -- Operational challenges -- War plans -- First blood in the North Sea -- The Baltic begins -- Heligoland Bight -- Enter the submarines -- The return of Fisher -- The Scarborough Raid -- Mines and ice -- Trying the offense -- The Battle of the Dogger Bank -- Seeking new solutions -- Summa.
Sommario/riassunto	Before Jutland is an effort to understand what happened at sea in northern European waters in 1914-15 when the German High Sea Fleet faced the Grand Fleet in the North Sea and the Russian Fleet in the Baltic. The book is an extensively revised and extended version of the author's 1984 work The King's Ships Were at Sea. It covers the first six months of the First World War because very important things occurred in that time and, despite the loose ends that inevitably remain with four more years of conflict to follow, important things can be said. The focus is primarily on the British, but both