

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910823961503321
Titolo	The personal is political : body politics in a Trump world // edited by Christine Salkin Davis and Jonathan L. Crane
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Leiden : , : Brill Sense, , [2020] ©2020
ISBN	90-04-43632-4 9789004436329
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xiii, 299 pages)
Collana	Personal/public scholarship ; ; volume 7
Disciplina	973.933092
Soggetti	Identity politics - United States National characteristics, American United States Politics and government 21st century United States Social conditions 21st century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Prologue: Driving home, in reverse -- Dialogue 1 -- Introduction: Bodily experiences in a Trumpian world -- Dialogue 2 -- A Trump-haunted landscape -- Dialogue 3 -- Black women's embodied identities at the nexus of political movements: Intersectionality, resistance, and power in the post-Obama era -- Dialogue 4 -- Airport (in)security -- Dialogue 5 -- Violent, oppressed, and un-American: Muslim women in the American imagination -- Dialogue 6 -- Necessity, uncertainty, and the ACA: Health insurance coverage in the age of Trump -- Dialogue 7 -- Resilience isn't a single skill: International students cope with the Trump rhetoric -- Dialogue 8 -- Living and relating queerly in the post-Trump world -- Dialogue 9 -- Opportunities to unsilence: Walking the political line at home -- Dialogue 10 -- Not/my President: Presidential race in southern Black/African American and White American families -- Dialogue 11 -- Intercultural relationships in a post-Trump world: Mediating and mitigating -- Dialogue 12 -- Conclusion: Reap the whirlwind: Identity, intersectionality, and politics in Trump's wake -- Discussion questions.
Sommario/riassunto	In the wake of Donald J. Trump's victory and his administration's attacks on an array of vulnerable populations, a diverse collection of scholars and ethnographers document how marginalized peoples have experienced the first years of Trump mayhem.
