

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910825434803321
Titolo	Regulating the health professions // edited by Judith Allsop and Mike Saks
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London ; ; Thousand Oaks, Calif., : Sage Publications, 2002 London ; ; Thousand Oaks, Calif. : , : Sage Publications, , 2002
ISBN	0-7619-6741-9 1-280-37028-9 9786610370283 1-4129-3129-0
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (x, 166 p.)
Altri autori (Persone)	AllsopJudy <1938-> SaksMike
Disciplina	362.1/0941
Soggetti	Medical care - Law and legislation - Great Britain Medical ethics - Great Britain Medical policy - Great Britain Libros electronicos.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Cover -- Contents -- Acknowledgements -- Contributors -- Introduction: The Regulation of Health Professions -- Part I: Professional Regulation in Context -- Chapter 1 - The Health Professions in International Perspective -- Chapter 2 - Regulatory Politics, Health Professionals, and the Public Interest -- Chapter 3 - Legal Aspects of the Regulation of the Health Professions -- Chapter 4 - Evaluating the Ethical and Legal Content of Professional Codes of Ethics -- Part II: Professional Case Studies -- Chapter 5 - Regulation and the Medical Profession -- Chapter 6 - Registering a Difference: Changes in the Regulation of Nursing -- Chapter 7 - Regulating Dentistry -- Chapter 8 - The Regulation of the Professions Allied to Medicine -- Chapter 9 - The Emergence of Clinical Psychology as a Profession -- Chapter 10 - Professionalization, Regulation and Alternative Medicine -- Index.

Sommario/riassunto

In recent years the health services in Great Britain have been subjected to unprecedented regulatory changes. After a review of the overall issues, including the impact of globalization, the text explores recent changes in regard to different healthcare professions.
