

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910826174703321
Autore	Bergen Jeremy M
Titolo	Ecclesial repentance [[electronic resource] ] : the churches confront their sinful pasts // Jeremy M. Bergen
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : T&T Clark, 2011
ISBN	1-283-27108-7 9786613271082 0-567-45732-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (353 p.)
Disciplina	234.5
Soggetti	Church history Church renewal
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	pt. 1. Counter-witness and scandal : repentance for historical wrongs -- pt. 2. Doctrine and practice : frameworks and implications.
Sommario/riassunto	Churches have been repenting, apologizing, and asking forgiveness for beliefs and practices they once justified. These often high-profile statements raise questions such as: Can a church repent for things that happened centuries ago? Is it possible for a church to sin or to be forgiven? What difference will repenting make? Is this just more church hypocrisy? In this book Jeremy Bergen tells the story of ecclesial repentance in recent decades and explores the theological issues its raises. He argues that because it is grounded in the doctrines of Christ and the Holy Spirit, ecclesial repentance