Note generali	Includes index.
Nota di contenuto	Agent Systems -- AI Applications -- Automated Reasoning -- Bioinformatics and BioNLP -- CaseBased Reasoning -- Cognitive Models -- Constraint Satisfaction -- Data Mining -- ECommerce -- Evolutionary Computation -- Games -- Information Retrieval and Search -- Information and Knowledge Management -- Knowledge Representation -- Machine Learning -- Multimedia Processing -- Natural Language Processing -- Neural Nets and Deep Learning -- Planning -- Privacypreserving -- Robotics -- Uncertainty -- User Modeling -- Web Mining and Applications.
Sommario/riassunto	This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 32nd Canadian Conference on Artificial Intelligence, Canadian AI 2019, held in Kingston, ON, Canada, in May 2019. The 27 regular papers and 34 short papers presented together with 8 Graduate Student Symposium papers and 4 Industry Track papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 132 submissions. The focus of the conference was on artificial intelligence research and advanced information and communications technology. .

Sommario/riassunto	Questions regarding the origins, mobility, and effects of analytical concepts continue to emerge as anthropology endeavors to describe similarities and differences in social life around the world. Cutting and Connecting rethinks this comparative enterprise by calling in a conceptual debt that theoretical innovations from Melanesian anthropology owe to network analysis originally developed in African contexts. On this basis, the contributors adopt and employ concepts from recent studies of Melanesia to analyze contemporary life on the African continent and to explore how this exchange influences the borrowed anthropological perspectives. By focusing on ways in which networks are cut and connections are made, these empirical investigations show how particular relationships are created in today's Africa. In addition, the volume aims for an approach that recasts relationships between theory and place and concepts and ethnography, in a manner that destabilizes the distinction between fieldwork and writing.
