

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910827981103321
Titolo	Psychosis (madness) // edited by Paul Williams
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : Institute of Psycho-Analysis, 1999
ISBN	0-429-91819-4 0-429-90396-0 0-429-47919-0 1-283-06852-4 9786613068521 1-84940-280-9
Edizione	[First edition.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (96 pages)
Collana	IDEAS.
Altri autori (Persone)	WilliamsPaul
Disciplina	616.89
Soggetti	Psychoses Psychology, Pathological
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	COVER; Contents; Acknowledgements; Paul Williams: Introduction; 1. Leslie Sohn: Psychosis and violence; 2. Michael Conran: Sorrow, vulnerability and madness; 3. Michael Sinason: How can you keep your hair on?; 4. Thomas Freeman: The delusions of the non-remitting schizophrenias: parallels with childhood phantasies; 5. Richard Lucas: Managing psychotic patients in a day hospital setting; 6. David Bell: Destructive narcissism and The Singing Detective; Index
Sommario/riassunto	In this volume a number of British psychoanalysts introduce us to psychoanalytic definitions of intra-psychic and subjective meaning in patients suffering psychotic conditions. Irrespective of the particular type of psychotic illness under consideration of the context or treatment, each paper illustrates how the psychoanalytic clinician searches to establish meaning from events which are highly complex and often overwhelmingly confusing. Contributors: "Psychosis and violence" Leslie Sohn; "Sorrow, Vulnerability and Madness", Michael Conran; "How Can You Keep Your Hair On?", Michael Sinason; "The Delusions of the Non-Remitting Schizophrenias - Parallels with Childhood Phantasies", Thomas Freeman; "Managing Psychotic Patients in a Day Hospital Setting", Richard Lucas; "Desctructive Narcissism" and

"The Singing Detective", David Bell.
