

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910842026703321
Autore	Dobek-Ostrowska Bogusawa
Titolo	Mediatizing Secular State : Media, Religion and Politics in Contemporary Poland
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Frankfurt a.M. : , : Peter Lang GmbH, Internationaler Verlag der Wissenschaften, , 2019 ©2019
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (333 pages)
Collana	Studies in Communication and Politics Series ; ; v.8
Altri autori (Persone)	GuzekDamian
Disciplina	282.438
Soggetti	Church and mass media - Poland - History - 21st century Church and mass media History Poland
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Cover -- Copyright information -- Acknowledgments -- Contents -- Abbreviations -- Introduction -- Part I -- 1 State secularity in context -- 1.1 Shaping the Church-state relationship according to models -- 1.2 Understanding the secular state -- 1.3 Differentiating la ĩ cit é , neutrality, and impartiality -- 1.4 The secular state's ways of accommodating conscientious exemptions -- 1.5 The secular state on the fusion of national and religious identity -- 1.6 Understanding civil religion -- 1.7 The place of public religion -- 1.8 Lasting Polish religiosity in context -- 2 The notion of mediatization -- 2.1 Traditions of mediatization research -- 2.2 Defining mediatization -- 2.3 Mediatization epistemology: The grand theory or the theory of middle range? -- 2.4 Understanding media institutions -- 2.5 Differentiating media -- 2.6 Understanding media logic -- 2.7 Components of media logic -- 2.8 Forms and objects of mediatization -- 2.9 Operationalizing mediatization research -- 2.10 Mediatization affects the media effect -- 3 Mediatization of religion and politics -- 3.1 Designating mediatization of religion -- 3.2 Understanding mediatization of religion -- 3.3 Three forms of mediatized religion -- 3.4 Spheres of mediatized religion -- 3.5 Mediatization in the context of secularization -- 3.6 Mediatization in the context of republicization -- 3.7 Conditions and consequences of the mediatization of religion -- 3.8 Conceptualizing the mediatization of politics -- 3.9 Media logic versus political logic -- 3.10 Results of the mediatization of politics -- Part II -- 4 Methodological background -- 4.1 Introduction to the research design -- 4.2 Materials -- 4.3 First stage: Media content analysis -- 4.4 Second stage: The grounded theory -- 4.5 Third stage: Survey questionnaires -- 4.6 Triangulation of the methods.

5 Covering the secular and Church-state relationship -- 5.1 The secular state and the Church-state relationship: A quantitative overview
-- 5.2 Placing the secular state and secularity in the quantitative material -- 5.3 Who is important: Political actors -- 5.4 Who is important: Religious actors -- 5.5 Locating the agency: Believers, non-believers, and covered confessions -- 5.6 Religion becoming public -- 6 On the way to the secular state -- 6.1 The secular state and Church-state relationship: A qualitative overview -- 6.2 The incoherent debate over the secular state -- 6.3 Political agents get mediatized -- 6.4 Religious agents get mediatized -- 6.5 Covering the fusion of religion and state -- 7 In search of the mediatization effect -- 7.1 Sources of knowledge about a secular state -- 7.2 Not very attractive Church-state issues -- 7.3 "Where's the cross?" -- 7.4 Between secularity and state impartiality -- 7.5 Reconsidering the mediatization effect -- Conclusion: Church-state issues seen through the prism of the mediatization theory -- Poland's way of creating an endorsed Church -- Shaping the concepts -- Religious issues get mediatized -- Political issues get mediatized -- Insight into the mediation of the secular state
-- Appendix -- List of Figures -- References -- Index.

Sommario/riassunto

The book provides an analysis of the way various political and religious actors seek to influence the Church and state relationship as well as how we understand the idea of the secular state. A set of case studies shows how and why changes in the coverage of the secular state and Church-state relations have followed the dynamics of mediatization.
