Sommario/riassunto	This book, 'Filosofía en diálogo' by Rodrigo Cárcamo Aguad, compiles a series of interviews conducted between 2014 and 2020 with prominent philosophers from various countries. The work explores diverse philosophical themes, including cultural relativism, human emotions, the role of logic in rational thought, religion, politics, and otherness. The author engages in dialogues with notable figures such as Gianni Vattimo, Dina Picotti, Carla Cordua, Javier San Martín, and Peter Hacker, among others. The book aims to demonstrate the vitality of philosophical discourse through dialogue, questioning whether true philosophy can occur within such exchanges or if it resides solely in solitary reflection. Intended for readers interested in contemporary philosophical dialogue, it provides insights into the personal philosophies of each interviewee.
