Sommario/riassunto	This volume represents a study of contemporary politics and policy making in the five nation-states and three home rules territories of the Nordic region. Written by an expert in the field, its approach is systematically thematic and comparative. Chapters deal with current political science issues such as nation-building and state-building, as well as addressing intrinsically important regional questions such as whether or not there is a Nordic model of government, a distinctively Scandinavian form of parliamentarism and a superior welfare system. There is also detailed discussion of the Nordic

Sommario/riassunto	This book documents the proceedings of a conference held in Vienna in September 1894 by the Verein für Socialpolitik, focusing on the topics of cartels and rural inheritance rights. The discussions include detailed analyses and presentations by various experts such as Wilhelm Stieda and Adolf Menzel. The book explores the economic and legal implications of cartels, particularly their development and impact in Germany and abroad, emphasizing their role in stabilizing market conditions for producers. The text also examines the historical context and evolution of cartels and compares them to other economic entities like trusts and trade unions. Intended for scholars and professionals interested in economic policy and history, it offers insights into late 19th-century economic practices and organizational structures.
