

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910915627703321
Autore	Ouologuem Belko
Titolo	La Philosophie de Confucius
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Paris : , : Editions L'Harmattan, , 2019 ©2019
ISBN	2-14-013352-8
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (198 pages)
Collana	Pour Comprendre Series
Soggetti	Confucianists Philosophy, Chinese
Lingua di pubblicazione	Francese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Sommario/riassunto	This book by Belko Ouologuem delves into the philosophical teachings of Confucius, focusing on the ideals of governance, morality, and education. Highlighting the concept of 'junzi,' the book explores how Confucian philosophy proposes an ideal moral and political man as a remedy for societal decay. The author examines the role of Confucius' teachings in ancient Chinese society, emphasizing human accountability for societal issues and the potential for moral improvement through education and virtue. The book is intended for scholars and readers interested in philosophy, particularly those exploring Chinese thought and its implications for modern governance and ethics.