Sommario/riassunto	This book serves as an advanced exercise book in Spanish grammar, primarily aimed at university students studying Spanish philology, but also valuable for anyone seeking to deepen their understanding of Spanish grammar. It assumes a high level of Spanish proficiency (B2, C1, C2) and focuses on relatively challenging grammatical phenomena. The content covers all aspects of Spanish grammar, including exercises in spelling, pronunciation, morphology, syntax, and vocabulary-related issues. Special emphasis is placed on contemporary usage norms and linguistic phenomena that are particularly difficult for Czech students of Spanish. This book was developed as part of the Cátedra Complutense Project under a scientific collaboration between the Universidad Complutense in Madrid and Charles University in Prague.
