Sommario/riassunto	This book is the first authoritative book volume dedicated to the application of Mesotherapy in dermatology. This book provides an up-to-date and comprehensive overview of the basic structural component of Mesotherapy and its constitution from the chemical side of view, then we will discuss its role in cosmetic dermatology, facial rejuvenation, its anti-aging properties, and its role with hyaluronic acid and mesoneedling therapy for facial youthfulness. This volume will describe interplay of mesotherapy and other dermatological diseases such as alopecia hair loss, melasma, acne, psoriasis, and eczema. Chapters will address key issues, such as mesotherapy complications and urticaria that are caused because of it. In addition, the book will discuss severe acute caffeine poisoning due to intradermal mesotherapy injections and the use of mesotherapy as a lucrative business in the cosmetic industry. This book will be a valuable resource to dermatologists, general practitioners, dermatology residents, and medical students.

Nota di contenuto	Imagining the future: theorizing generational and historical change -- Making modern life in Tamatave: shifting paths to social mobility -- Disembedding and the humiliation of poverty -- The changing social economy of the female life course -- Jeunes: the future in the present -- Finding Vazaha? Navigating the sexual economy -- Other futures: women, suffering, and pentecostalism -- How the future comes into the present.
Sommario/riassunto	As much of the intense political and social changes in Madagascar revolve around urban youth, who view themselves as avatars of modernity, this book argues that traditional social science offers inadequate theorizations of generational change and its contribution to broader cultural historical processes.
