

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996394563803316
Titolo	By the King. A proclamation that all captaines, lieutenants, and other officers shall repayre to their companies, and that all souldiers shall repayre to their colours [[electronic resource]]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Imprinted at London, : By Bonham Norton and Iohn Bill, printers to the Kings most excellent Maiestie, M.DC.XXVI. [1626, i.e. 1627]
Descrizione fisica	2 sheets
Altri autori (Persone)	Charles, King of England, <1600-1649.>
Soggetti	Great Britain Armed forces Law and legislation Early works to 1800
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Caption title. Dated at end "White-Hall the nine and twentieth day of Ianuary, in the second yeere of our reigne ..". Imprint from colophon; years are given according to Lady Day dating. Arms 21; Steele notation: did Counties 2) aforesaid, said. Reproduction of the original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018

2. Record Nr.	UNINA9910919816803321
Autore	Komlos John
Titolo	Neoliberal Economic Policy and the Rise of Right-Wing Populism : Western Civilization at the Crossroads / / edited by John Komlos
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cham : , : Springer Nature Switzerland : , : Imprint : Palgrave Macmillan, , 2024
ISBN	9783031749797 3031749790
Edizione	[1st ed. 2024.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (418 pages)
Collana	Palgrave Insights into Apocalypse Economics, , 2523-8116
Disciplina	338.9
Soggetti	Economics Schools of economics Economic policy Economics - Sociological aspects Political Economy and Economic Systems Heterodox Economics Economic Policy Economic Sociology
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Chapter 1: Policy Mistakes of Historical Proportions Destabilized the Political System and Lead to the Rise of Right-Wing Populist Movement, 1981-2016 -- Chapter 2: The Decline of U.S. Manufacturing Employment since 1980 -- Chapter 3: The Financial Crisis of 2008 and Estrangement from the System -- Chapter 4: Tax Policy and the Rise of Populism -- Chapter 5: What Went Wrong with the American Elites? Elites and The Rise of Right-wing Populism in the Neoliberal Era -- Chapter 6: Displaced Worker Angst and Far Right Populism -- Chapter 7: Coming of Age: Think Tanks and the Rise of Right-Wing Populism -- Chapter 8: The Urgent Need to Delegitimize Laissez-Faire Ideology -- Chapter 9: Understanding populism in the post-industrial society: the case of the European Union -- Chapter 10: The Political Economy of Viktor Orbán's Illiberal Democracy, 2010-2023 -- Chapter 11: Economic populism in Four East-European countries: A Polanyian countermovement? -- Chapter 12: Left Behind in Saxony and Ohio: An Explorative Case Study of East and West between Transformation and Populism.

---

Sommario/riassunto

This edited volume explores and makes explicit the links between neoliberal economic policies and right-wing ideology. The book focuses on the case of the US while situating these trends in the global political economy. The book brings together contributions from an interdisciplinary perspective, integrating economics, political science, psychology and sociology to examine the connections between the economic precarity generated by neoliberalism and the rise of the far right. The contributors argue that a flawed ideology has left a vacuum in policymakers' ability to understand the impact of economic policies on human welfare and mental health. These mistakes of historical proportions can be directly linked to the rise of the right-wing populist movement driven by the frustrations associated with the transition from an industrial to a post-industrial economy. Chapters consider the history of neoliberalism and comparative studies of socio-economic conditions, before addressing specific issues associated with neoliberal policies, such as the demise of unions, the decline in well-paying manufacturing jobs, the rise of the gig economy, failure trickle-down economics, staggering income inequality, the tremendous increase in suicides, and the rise of an oligarchy in America. This book will be of interest to a broad range of readers, including those in politics, economics, sociology, industrial organization and labour studies. John Komlos is Professor Emeritus of Economics and of Economic History, University of Munich. He also taught as a visitor at Harvard, Duke University, University of North Carolina, as well as in Vienna and St. Gallen (Switzerland). Komlos devoted most of his career founding and developing the field of "Economics and Human Biology". Through that research program he became a humanistic economist realizing that conventional economics does not reflect well the way the real economy functions. Since the financial crisis of 2008 he has been writing about current economic issues from a humanistic perspective, including Foundations of Real-World Economics, now in its third edition.

---