

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910956372603321
Autore	Dunham Scott A. <1968->
Titolo	The Trinity and creation in Augustine : an ecological analysis / / Scott A. Dunham
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Albany, NY, : State University of New York Press, c2008
ISBN	0-7914-7794-0 1-4356-6690-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (210 p.)
Collana	SUNY series on religion and the environment
Disciplina	231.092
Soggetti	Trinity - History of doctrines Creation - History of doctrines
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 181-189) and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	The contemporary critique of Augustine -- The forms of eastern and western Trinitarian thought -- Augustine's western form of the Trinity : modalism -- The Trinity and the doctrine of creation : cause and effect -- The scriptural basis of Augustine's Trinitarian doctrine -- Augustine's doctrine of the Trinity -- Subordinationism and the divine missions -- Monarchy, simplicity, and relations of origin : Augustine's Trinitarian logic -- Modalism -- Augustine and hierarchy in the Trinity -- Hierarchy and the Trinitarian relations -- Hierarchy and the divine substance -- The Trinitarian founding of creation -- The structure of The literal meaning of Genesis -- Naming the Trinity in Genesis 1 -- How the Trinity founds the creation -- How the Trinity converts and perfects creatures -- Trinitarian governance and creaturely participation in God -- Participation in Augustine's theology -- God's providential governance and creaturely motion -- Participation in the Trinity through measure, number, and weight -- Formless matter and the question of passivity -- Resting in God, the image of God, and dominion -- Resting in God -- Use and enjoyment -- The work of human dominion and the image of God -- Dominion and power.
Sommario/riassunto	Looks at Augustine's theology in light of environmental concerns.