

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910959318803321
Autore	Taub Gadi
Titolo	The settlers : and the struggle over the meaning of Zionism / / Gadi Taub
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New Haven, : Yale University Press, c2010
ISBN	9780300168631 0300168632
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (224 p.)
Disciplina	956.9405
Soggetti	Land settlement - West Bank Israelis - West Bank Forced migration - Gaza Strip Zionism Israel Government policy West Bank Israel Politics and government
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	"Originally published as hamitnahalim ve hamaavak al mashmauta shel hatziyonut ... (Tel Aviv: Yediot Sfarim, 2007)"--T.p. verso.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Political Zionism -- Religious Zionism: the politics of redemption -- The watershed: from gush emunim to the Yesha council -- The Rabin assassination -- Disengagement -- Conclusion: what next?.
Sommario/riassunto	The controversy over settlements in the occupied territories is a far more intractable problem for Israel than is widely perceived, Gadi Taub observes in this illuminating book. The clash over settlement is no mere policy disagreement, he maintains, but rather a struggle over the very meaning of Zionism. The book presents an absorbing study of religious settlers' ideology and how it has evolved in response to Israel's history of wars, peace efforts, assassination, the pull-out from Gaza, and other tumultuous events. Taub tracks the efforts of religious settlers to reconcile with mainstream Zionism but concludes that the project cannot succeed. A new Zionist consensus recognizes that Israel must pull out of the occupied territories or face an unacceptable alternative: the dissolution of Israel into a binational state with a Jewish minority.

