

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910961729103321
Autore	Levering Matthew <1971->
Titolo	Participatory Biblical exegesis : a theology of Biblical interpretation / / Matthew Levering
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Notre Dame, Ind., : University of Notre Dame Press, c2008
ISBN	9780268085711 0268085714
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	xi, 310 p
Collana	Reading the Scriptures
Disciplina	220.601
Soggetti	History - Religious aspects - Catholic Church History - Religious aspects - Catholic Church - History of doctrines
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Late-medieval nominalism and participatory Biblical exegesis -- From Aquinas to Raymond Brown -- Participatory Biblical exegesis and God the teacher -- Participatory Biblical exegesis and human teachers -- Participatory Biblical exegesis and ecclesial authority.
Sommario/riassunto	"Matthew Levering is among the most prolific young Catholic theologians working today. . . [He] has published widely on a variety of biblical, historical, and theological subjects. Participatory Biblical Exegesis is an excellent example of his wide-ranging interests and ability to synthesize exegetical, historical, philosophical, and systematic theological discussions. Levering states in the introduction that his purposes are largely constructive; the book weaves together scholarship from all of the aforementioned subdisciplines in support of his argument. Much of this scholarship is contained in the endnotes, which comprise nearly half of the book and are a veritable treasure trove of information for those working in this area. . . ." --Pro Ecclesia.