

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910961989903321
Autore	Dickens Charles <1812-1870.>
Titolo	Great expectations // Charles Dickens
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Chandni Chowk, Delhi, : Global Media, 2007
ISBN	1-281-35948-3 81-89940-58-9
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (451 p.)
Soggetti	Man-woman relationships Ex-convicts Benefactors Young men Revenge Orphans England Fiction
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Cover title. "Education for everyone."
Nota di contenuto	Table of Contents; Chapter I, II, III, IV & V; Chapter VI, VII, VIII, IX & X; Chapter XI, XII, XIII, XIV & XV; Chapter XVI, XVII, XVIII, XIX & XX; Chapter XXI, XXII, XXIII, XXIV & XXV; Chapter XXVI, XXVII, XXVIII, XXIX, XXX; Chapter XXXI, XXXII, XXXIII, XXXIV & XXXV; Chapter XXXVI, XXXVII, XXXVIII, XXXIX & XL; Chapter XLI, XLII, XLIII, XLIX & L; Chapter LI, LII, LIII, LIV & LV; Chapter LVI, LVII, LVIII & VIX
Sommario/riassunto	When Philip Pirrip--nicknamed Pip--is forced by an escaped convict to steal food and supplies from his meager home, he doesn't know that this event will transform his life. One of Dickens's most popular novels, "Great Expectations" follows the orphaned Pip as he grows from poverty into a gentleman, becoming entangled with the strange Miss Havisham and her beautiful but coldhearted ward, Estella, and coming into a fortune from an unknown benefactor. This engrossing work, which recently celebrated its 150th birthday, remains one of Dickens's best.

