

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910964509903321
Autore	Corr Rachel
Titolo	Ritual and remembrance in the Ecuadorian Andes / / Rachel Corr
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Tucson, : University of Arizona Press, c2010
ISBN	0-8165-0111-4
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (201 p.)
Collana	First peoples
Disciplina	986.15
Soggetti	Indians of South America - Ecuador - Salasaca - History Indians of South America - Ecuador - Salasaca - Rites and ceremonies Indians of South America - Ecuador - Salasaca - Religion Fasts and feasts - Ecuador - Salasaca - History Salasaca (Ecuador) History Salasaca (Ecuador) Religious life and customs Salasaca (Ecuador) Social life and customs
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Collective rituals and memory. The catechist and the Quishuar tree : religious taansculturation in the Andean contact zone ; Textual strategies and ritual control in early twentieth-century Salasaca ; Prayer and placemaking in the Andes : staffholders and cultural memory ; Life lessons at a time of death -- Individual acts and personal narratives. Tales of Amazonia : personal narratives of healing by yumbos ; Shamanism ; Narrating the sacred landscape : religious ethnographies of the particular.
Sommario/riassunto	Not every world culture that has battled colonization has suffered or died.In the Ecuadorian Andean parish of Salasaca, the indigenous culture has stayed true to itself and its surroundings for centuries while adapting to each new situation.