| Nota di contenuto       | Ecological thinking: subversions and transformations -- Ecological naturalism -- Negotiating empiricism -- Ecological subjectivity in the making: "The child as fact and artifact" -- Patterns of autonomy, acknowledgment, and advocacy -- Rational imagining, responsible knowing -- Public knowledge, public trust: toward Democratic epistemic practices. |
| Sommario/riassunto      | Starting from an epistemological approach implicit in Rachel Carson's scientific practice, this book presents the creative restructuring resources of ecology for a theory of knowledge. It critiques the instrumental rationality, abstract individualism and exploitation of people and places legitimated by western epistemologies.                       |
