

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910966362203321
Titolo	Regional minorities and development in East and Southeast Asia // edited by Huhua Cao & Elizabeth Morrell
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, NY, : Routledge, 2009
ISBN	1-135-21512-X 1-282-28371-5 9786612283710 0-203-87343-2
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (194 p.)
Collana	Routledge contemporary Asia series
Altri autori (Persone)	CaoHuhua MorrellElizabeth <1945->
Disciplina	338.950089
Soggetti	Economic development - Southeast Asia - 21st century Minorities - Southeast Asia - Social conditions
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Book Cover; Title; Copyright; Contents; Illustrations; Notes on contributors; Acknowledgements; Introduction: From consciousness to responsibility; Part I Overcoming exclusion; 1 From rebels to governors: 'Patronage autonomy' and continuing underdevelopment in Muslim Mindanao; 2 Balancing livelihoods, limited options, and the state: Alleviating poverty in critical environments; 3 The hunter's spirit: Autonomy and development in indigenous Taiwan; Part II Development or underdevelopment?; 4 Sustainable futures?: Displacement, development and the Muong 5 Access to education for girls in minority regions of Gansu: A geographic perspectivePart III Ethnic integration and cultural revival; 6 Reviving Malay connections in Southeast Asia; 7 The Miao of China: An emerging nationality; 8 Globalization and regionalism: The rise of a new cultural movement in Bali, Indonesia; Index
Sommario/riassunto	Asia has undergone strong economic growth since the Second World War. However, it also experiences growing economic and regional disparities brought about by this unprecedented development. This economic growth cannot be considered sustainable without taking into consideration the social development of minority populations, as well as the fundamentals of minority rights. The chapters in this book work from the premise that an environment that favours the emergence of various conditions necessary for the development of minority populations will contribute towards further econom

---