Sommario/riassunto	This book, authored by Zhang Daolong, focuses on brief psychological counseling and supervision techniques, specifically in the context of parent-child education. It offers practical insights into addressing various psychological challenges faced by children and adolescents, such as anxiety, ADHD, and school refusal. Through real-life case studies and dialogues, the book aims to guide parents and educators in effectively supporting children's mental health and development. The intended audience includes psychologists, counselors, educators, and parents seeking to understand and apply psychological interventions in educational settings.
