

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910966952103321
Titolo	Critical Reflections on Audience and Narrativity : New connections, New perspectives / Bianca Mitu, Silvia Branea, Valentina Marinescu, Daniela Schluetz, Mathieu Pierre, Beate Schneider, Michael Fuchs, Michael Wayne, Inbar Kaminsky, Oliver Kroener, Atene Mendelyte, Raquel Galvez, Enric Zofio, Rodrigo Mesonero, Valentina Marinescu, Marc Perello-Sobrepere, Bianca Mitu, Lilian Moreira, Natasa Bajic, Maria Dicieanu, Nuran Isik, Carmen Arana, Maria Gavilan, Lourdes Gutierrez, Tania Benitez
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Hannover, : ibidem, 2014
ISBN	9783838266794 383826679X
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (245 p.)
Disciplina	791.45
Soggetti	reality intertextuality post-network age television TV narrative series narrativity mass culture mass entertainment media fiction audience storytelling
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	Does the cultural capital compensate for the cultural discount? Why do German students prefer US-American TV series? / Daniela Schluetz,

Beate Schneider -- Awake, or the multiplication of the realities contemporary television series: narrative structures and audience perception / Mathieu Pierre -- "Three hundred channels and nothing's on": metaleptic genre-mixing in Supernatural / Michael Fuchs -- Appreciating Nietzsche in episodic drama: the highbrow intertextuality and middlebrow reception of Criminal minds / Michael Wayne -- The seed of an idea and its cognitive field: minding the gap of alternate reality in Flash forward and Fringe / Inbar Kaminsky -- Breaking narrative: narrative complexity in contemporary television / Oliver Kroener -- The walking dead and the truly monstrous ... on television / Atene Mendelyte -- Television cosmo-mythologies: the return to mythological narratives in television fiction, from The prisoner to Lost / Raquel Crisostomo Galvez, Enric Ros Zofio -- Breaking bad, a character-based formula / Rodrigo Mesonero -- Representing occupations in media and audience perceptions of TV series / Valentina Marinescu -- Homeland: war on terror revisited / Marc Perello-Sobrepere -- Understanding health in Grey's Anatomy television series / Bianca Mitu -- Fiction television in Brazil: new perspectives / Lilian Fontes Moreira -- TV series Bolji zivot (1987-1991): view from the future / Natasa Simeunovic Bajic -- The X-factor of singing competitions TV series / Maria Dicieanu -- TV drama as a narrative form: scenes from a gendered and a sacralized cultural sphere in Turkish society / Nuran E. Isk-- The hero's journey / Maria Teresa Nicolas Gavilan, Lourdes Lopez Gutierrez, Carmen Silvia Sanchez Arana, Tania Alejandra Benitez Sanchez.

Sommario/riassunto

"Critical Reflections on Audience and Narrativity—New connections, New perspectives" offers an interdisciplinary and multicultural approach to fiction, reality, and narrativity applied to television series from all over the world. Dissecting the almost invisible barrier between fiction and reality in TV series from various perspectives, the chapters cover a wide range of contemporary classics from the post-network age. From "The X-Files" and "Desperate Housewives" to "The Wire" and "Breaking Bad", the chapters sketch TV series` development from the lowest form of mass entertainment to the sophisticated vehicle of highbrow intertextuality on a global scale. Also covering many international cases from Brazil, Serbia, Romania, and Turkey and locating them in the global web of puzzle narratives, the unique contributions draw connections between the most diverse audiences and the way they receive modern storytelling in a culturally globalized world. This timely volume is a great resource for anyone interested in contemporary mass culture.

"The new perspectives offered by this volume are of great interest for any European and International scholar mainly because the volume brings to light new ideas, new methodologies and results that could be further developed. Furthermore it is outstanding that the contributors to this book come from different countries (UK, Germany, Turkey, Bulgaria, Romania) and somehow reach a common language in their studies."-Michael Higgins, University of Strathclyde, UK