

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910967038303321
Autore	Milanesio Natalia <1974->
Titolo	Workers go shopping in Argentina : the rise of popular consumer culture // Natalia Milanesio
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Albuquerque, : University of New Mexico, c2013
ISBN	9781283959964 1283959968 9780826352439 082635243X
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (321 p.)
Disciplina	306.30982
Soggetti	Consumption (Economics) - Argentina Consumers - Argentina - History - 20th century Working class - Argentina - History Consum (Economia) Consumidores Proletariat Societat de massa Llibres electrònics Argentina Economic conditions 20th century Argentina
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Industry, wages, and the state: the rise of popular consumer culture -- Surveys and campaigns : discovering and reaching the worker-consumer -- Commercial culture becomes popular : advertising and the challenges of a changing market -- How can a garbage collector be on the same level as we are? : upper- and middle-class anxieties over working-class consumers -- Love in the time of mass consumption -- Tales of consumers : memory and working-class material culture -- Epilogue : consumer culture today.
Sommario/riassunto	"Dr. Milanesio examines the ways mass consumption transformed Argentina in the twentieth century in a comprehensive analysis of the relations between consumers, goods, manufacturers, advertisers, and the state during Juan Peron's reign. She examines the social and political changes that occurred when the general population became consumers of industrial goods and participants in consumption"--

Provided by publisher.
