

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910967683803321
Autore	Donnellan Keith
Titolo	Essays on reference, language, and mind / / Keith Donnellan ; edited by Joseph Almog and Paolo Leonardi
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Oxford, : Oxford University Press, c2012
ISBN	0-19-026766-6 1-280-77029-5 9786613681065 0-19-985800-4
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xx, 210 pages)
Disciplina	121/.68
Soggetti	Philosophy, American - 20th century Philosophy, American - 21st century Reference (Philosophy) Language and languages - Philosophy Philosophy of mind
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	Reference and definite descriptions -- Putting Humpty Dumpty together again -- Proper names and identifying descriptions -- Speaking of nothing -- Speaker reference, descriptions and anaphora -- The contingent "a priori" and rigid designators -- Kripke and Putnam on natural kind terms.
Sommario/riassunto	Keith Donnellan is one of the major figures in 20th century philosophy of language and mind, a key member of the highly influential group that altered the course of philosophy of language and mind around 1970. An innovative philosopher, Donnellan's primary contributions were published in article form rather than books. This volume presents a highly focused collection of articles by Donnellan, beginning with his 1966 groundbreaking ""Reference and Definite Descriptions,"" historically the first move in the direct reference direction. In the late sixties and early 1970's, the philosophy of language