

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910968009603321
Titolo	Comparative treatments for borderline personality disorder // Arthur Freeman, Mark H. Stone, Donna Martin, editors
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, NY, : Springer, 2005
ISBN	1-280-82335-6 9786610823352 0-8261-2113-6
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (313 p.)
Collana	Springer series on comparative treatments for psychological disorders
Altri autori (Persone)	FreemanArthur <1942-> StoneMark H MartinDonna <1954->
Disciplina	616.85/85206
Soggetti	Borderline personality disorder Borderline personality disorder - Treatment
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Contents; Contributors; Acknowledgments; CH 1. Introduction: A Review of Borderline Personality Disorder; CH 2. Case History of a Borderline Personality: Linda P.; CH 3. Self-Psychological Treatment; CH 4. Dialectical Behaviour Therapy; CH 5. Cognitive Behavioral Therapy; CH 6. Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy; CH 7. Borderline States and Individual Psychology; CH 8. A Cognitive-Developmental Formulation of BPD; CH 9. A Lacanian Approach; CH 10. Imagery Rescripting and Reprocessing Therapy; CH 11. Unified Therapy with BPD; CH 12. Similarities and Differences in Treatment Modalities Index
Sommario/riassunto	Talks about Borderline personality disorder, a term within the field of clinical psychology which came to possess specific stereotypes and negative meanings. This book applies a variety of modalities to identify treatment goals, including: selecting assessment tools, conceptualizing progression, pinpointing pitfalls, and developing techniques.