

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910969259703321
Autore	Perkins Charles B
Titolo	DNA identification : lessons learned from 9-11 / / Charles B. Perkins
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : Nova Science, c2009
ISBN	1-60876-593-8
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (223 p.)
Disciplina	363.340973
Soggetti	DNA fingerprinting - United States Emergency management - United States Mass casualties - United States September 11 Terrorist Attacks, 2001
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. [195]-202) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction -- How DNA is used to make identification -- Before the incident -- Major decision -- Managing expectations -- Project management -- Media relations -- Family coordination and liaison -- Information technology -- Sample tracking and management -- Sample analysis -- Statistical and other issues -- Procurement and vendor management -- Quality control.
Sommario/riassunto	Discusses the incorporation of DNA identification into a mass fatality disaster plan, including how to establish laboratory policies and procedures, the creation of sample collection documents, and assess the magnitude of an identification effort, and identify and acquire resources to respond.