

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910969561103321
Titolo	Self perception / / edited by Richard J. Riding and Stephen G. Rayner
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Westport, Conn., : Ablex Pub., 2001
ISBN	9780313075520 0313075522
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (298 p.)
Collana	International perspectives on individual differences, , 1525-1926 ; ; v. 2
Altri autori (Persone)	RidingR. J RaynerStephen
Disciplina	155.5/182
Soggetti	Self-esteem in adolescence
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	Preliminaries; Contents; 1 On the Importance of Impatience Ratings in Understanding Adolescents' Self-Esteem; 2 Aspects of the Self as Learner; 3 Shyness, Self-Perception and Reticence; 4 Self Perception in Context; 5 Self-Perception of Team-Roles; 6 Transition Across Educational Phases and the Impact upon Pupil Academic Self-Concept; 7 Individual Difference in Verbal and Math Self-Perceptions; 8 Self-Esteem and Self-Perceptions; 9 Causal Links Between Academic Intrinsic Motivation, Self-Esteem and Unconditional Acceptance by Teachers in High School Students 10 Achievement and Self-Concerpt in Mathematics and Verbal Arts11 Self-Beliefs and School Success; 12 The Effect of Home Background, Gender, Cognitive Style and Self-Perception on School Performance; Author Index; Subject Index; Contributors
Sommario/riassunto	This text offers an international perspective on contemporary theory and research in self-perception. Drawing upon an international field of established and contemporary researchers, the work presents both theoretical and applied work looking at individual difference in human performance.