Sommario/riassunto	The air is thick and wet and the sun burns your skin like it hates your guts ... It's 1942 and I'm fourteen and to try to fill the shoes left behind. Thrust headlong into the threat of war and the hope of love like his city is growing up fast. Aided by his potty-mouthed best-friend Patty Danny meets an American serviceman identical to Danny's lost brother. But when the American begins teaching him how to fly Danny comes up with a dangerous plan to prove his own worth. "
