

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910974566403321
Autore	Sadlek Gregory M. <1950->
Titolo	Idleness working : the discourse of love's labor from Ovid through Chaucer and Gower / / Gregory M. Sadlek
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Washington, D.C., : Catholic University of America Press, c2004
ISBN	0-8132-1652-4
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (313 pages)
Disciplina	809/.933543
Soggetti	Literature, Medieval - History and criticism Literature, Medieval - Roman influences Love in literature Work in literature
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 267-281) and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	The discourse of love's labor and its cultural contexts -- Labor omnia vincit: Roman attitudes toward work and leisure and the discourse of love's labor in Ovid's Ars amatoria -- Noble servitium: aspects of labor ideology in the Christian middle ages and love's labor in the De amore of Andreas Capellanus -- Homo artifex: monastic labor ideologies, urban labor, and love's labor in Alan of Lille's De planctu naturae -- Repose travaillant: the discourse of love's labor in the Roman de la rose -- The vice of Acedia and the gentil occupacion in Gower's Confessio amantis -- Love's bysynesse in Chaucer's amatory fiction.
Sommario/riassunto	Inspired by the critical theories of M. M. Bakhtin, Idleness Working is a groundbreaking study of key works in the Western literature of love from Classical Rome to the late Middle Ages.