Sommario/riassunto

This volume critically examines how the integration of evidence-based research within police governance reshapes accountability, decision-making, and policy development. Focusing on the transition of a well-established police research unit from the Metropolitan Police Service to the London Police and Crime Commissioner's office in 2014, the book explores the broader implications of this move for data-driven oversight and police practice. Bringing together contributions from experts directly involved in this transition, the chapters combine original research, case studies, and applied analysis to demonstrate how evidence informs policing at both strategic and operational levels. The book introduces the concept of "evidence-based oversight," offering a new framework for understanding the evolving role of research in shaping police governance and accountability structures. With insights for PCC staff, police professionals, policymakers, and scholars, this volume provides a critical perspective on how empirical research can enhance policing practices, drive reform, and strengthen oversight mechanisms within criminal justice systems.

Sommario/riassunto	Welche Gemeinsamkeiten und Unterschiede gibt es im Rechtspopulismus zwischen den Niederlanden und Deutschland? Kann man von den Erfahrungen im anderen Land lernen? Diese Fragen standen im Fokus der Tagung des Goethe-Instituts Amsterdam, des Zentrums für Niederlande-Studien Münster und des Duitsland Instituut Amsterdam im November 2016, auf der sich Wissenschaftler und Journalisten mit der Berichterstattung über dieses politische Phänomen in den Medien befassten. Einige der präsentierten Forschungsergebnisse, Standpunkte und Gedanken sind in dieser Broschüre gebündelt, um die grenzüberschreitende Diskussion über den Umgang mit Rechtspopulismus zu stimulieren.
