Sommario/riassunto	"This book presents important information on several emerging and re-emerging infectious diseases. It offers succinct, details into many aspects of 28 diverse infectious diseases including COVID-19, monkeypox, Ebola, lyme disease, malaria, and bird and swine flu. Expert contributors from around the world explain these diseases over the course of 30 chapters of fundamental facts alongside practical and clinical data. As opposed to other published books, this stands out because of the featured infectious diseases, covering several which are not similarly addressed elsewhere"--
