

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9911020248703321
Autore	Duncan Richard <1960->
Titolo	The new depression : the breakdown of the paper money economy // Richard Duncan
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Singapore ; ; Hoboken, N.J., : John Wiley & Sons Singapore Pte. Ltd., 2012
ISBN	9786613621528 9781119199199 1119199190 9781118157824 1118157826 9781280591693 1280591692 9781118157800 111815780X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (191 p.)
Disciplina	338.542 338.543
Soggetti	Financial crises Financial crises - United States Depressions Depressions - 21st century Economic history - 20th century Monetary policy Monetary policy - United States United States Economic conditions 21st century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	How credit slipped its leash -- The global money glut -- Creditopia -- The quantity theory of credit -- The policy response: perpetuating the boom -- Where are we now? -- How it plays out -- Disaster scenarios -- The policy options -- Fire and ice, inflation and deflation -- Conclusion.

Sommario/riassunto

Introduces a new theoretical construct, The Quantity Theory of Credit, discusses how paper money creation is the only thing keeping the global economy from collapse, and provides practical advice for the coming instability.
