

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9911046426803321
Autore	Blanc Jacob
Titolo	The Prestes column : an interior history of modern Brazil // Jacob Blanc
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Duke University Press
ISBN	1-4780-5908-7
Classificazione	HIS033000
Disciplina	981/.05
Soggetti	HISTORY / Latin America / South America Brazil History 1889-1930 Brazil Politics and government 1922-1930
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Rebellion and the Backlands -- The Accidental March -- Bandeirantes of Freedom -- Competing Visions of the Sertao -- Bandeirantes in Bahia -- Mapping a Myth -- Constructing the Knight of Hope -- Political Conflict and the Spatial Legacies of Tenentismo -- Visions of the Future: Culture and Commemoration -- Memory Battles at the Turn of the Century -- Memory Sites in the Interior.
Sommario/riassunto	"In The Prestes Column, Jacob Blanc offers a new interpretation of the legendary rebellion, in which a band of rebel officers and soldiers marched 15,000 miles through the vast interior regions of Brazil between 1924 and 1927. Blanc's analysis of the Prestes Column is a showcase of what he calls "interior history." At a pivotal moment in national politics, the long march of the column came to embody the constructed duality of Brazil's interior: a space that was seen by coastal elites as simultaneously backwards-in relation to the more modern coast-and dormant, an expanse of untapped potential waiting to be brought into the nation. Drawing on a range of materials, from officers' memoirs and local eye-witness accounts to physical memorials and government archives, Blanc's framework of interior history helps explain the column's initial rise to fame and also its enduring legacy across the twentieth century, offering a new approach for the study of space and nation"--

