Sommario/riassunto	Behavioural Ecology as a Research Field "Human life is full of "chance events" that offer us unique opportunities. Every serendipitous encounter and every challenge overcome can lead us down extraordinary paths. These fleeting moments are open doors to new talents and undiscovered passions. Do not underestimate the transformative power of such experiences. Remain open to new opportunities, however small they may seem. Happiness lies in the ability to embrace these “chance events” with gratitude and curiosity. Celebrate fortuitous encounters and allow yourself to be captivated by their magic. Awaken to the wonder of “chance” and embark on a journey of discovery and achievement. Be the protagonist of your own story and turn every “chance event” into an extraordinary moment” .
