

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996200293803316
Autore	Roberts Dorothy E. <1956->
Titolo	Shattered bonds [[electronic resource]] : the color of child welfare // Dorothy Roberts
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : Basic Books, 2001
ISBN	1-282-74770-3 9786612747700 0-7867-3064-1
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (353 p.)
Disciplina	362.7/089/96073 362.70899607 362.708996073
Soggetti	Child welfare - United States Racism in social services - United States Social work with African American children African American families - Government policy Foster children - United States
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 277-315) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Introduction: Facing the Racial Reality of Child Welfare; PART ONE: Destroying Black Families in the Name of Child Protection; 1 . The Color of America's Child Welfare System; 2. The System's Inferior Treatment of Black Children; 3. Tracing the Disparity to Black Child Poverty; 4. Is Racism the Cause?; 5. The System's Fundamental Flaw; 6. A Racist Institution?; PART TWO: The New Politics of Child Welfare; 1. The Assault on Family Preservation; 2. Why Family Preservation Fails; 3. Is Adoption the Answer?; 4. Welfare Reform: Ending Aid to Poor Children 5. Locking Up Parents and ChildrenPART THREE: The System's Racial Harm; 1. Protection of Family Rights; 2. A Theory of Group-Based Harm; Conclusion: Child Welfare and Social Justice; Notes; Acknowledgments; Index
Sommario/riassunto	""This is the untold story behind the horror stories and the headlines.

Everyone who cares about children should read this eye-opening, powerfully argued book."--Katha Pollitt, The Nation
